Featured Speakers

Rev. John Kieschnick serves Capital Funding Services as stewardship consultant and pastor coach. Having led seven building and capital stewardship campaigns at his former church, he is well-suited to his current role delivering consultation to LCMS congregations, helping them open doors to spiritual, stewardship, and leadership growth.

Dr. H. James Boldt has served as teacher/administrator for Lutheran schools across the Midwest. He has served on various District and Synodical committees, and now in retirement enjoys participating in Bible studies, serving as an instructor for Teaching the Faith seminars, and archery hunting.

Rev. David P. E. Maier serves as President of the Michigan District, LCMS. Prior to assuming this role, he served congregations in Marlette, Arlington Heights, Illinois, and Lansing. President Maier has been very active at both the district and synodical level, plus remains involved in various community service capacities.

Entertainment

Taylor Mason has been making audiences laugh for 24 years as a professional comedian. He plays the piano, is a world-class ventriloquist, sings, does stand-up, writes jokes and produces. His sons once asked him, "Dad? Everyone's father works for a living. What do you do?" TAYLOR smiled and said, "Boys... I make fun of those guys."
